

Hey all,

We hope that you all had a great holiday - full of rest, family and a little bit of sewing thrown in there!! Now that things are somewhat back to normal, we wanted to remind you of our upcoming sale...

SUPER BOWL WEEKEND SALE

Saturday, February 5 - 9:30 - 5:00

Sunday, February 6 - 10:00 - 4:00

25% off storewide!!

Regardless if you are a fan or not, Super Bowl can be a fun time for all - just depends on your definition of "fun." If great deals, fun people and refreshments in a quilt shop are your version of fun, then mark your calendar to be at Material Rewards on either of these days.

We've been really busy changing samples so that you'll have plenty of new things to look at. We'll have all of our new block of the month projects available (we'll be offering the same deal as last year - sign up for a program on either of these days, get your last month free!), a new section of "Quilts for the Man-Cave"!! and great new kits, fabrics, and ideas galore.

We also know that the weather can be a little if-y this time of year, so we are offering the savings via our website - www.materialrewards.com so email the order to us (don't use Paypal as the discount won't register) and we can either hold it or ship it. The orders must be placed on Saturday or Sunday of the sale.

We're in the process of redesigning our website, so keep checking back and see what's new at the ole' MR!!
